Fall Term Student Ethnicity & Race Summary

Introduction and Systematics

The racial and ethnic heritage of students reported to the Secretary of Education through IPEDS (Integrated Postsecondary Educational Data System) is based on voluntary self-reporting of students. Reporting of race and ethnicity is complicated at present by the change to a new federal nomenclature. In the old system (IWU data warehouse: STU_ETHNIC_DESC), race and ethnicity were combined as a single variable with possible values of "American Indian/Alaska Native," "Asian/Pacific Islander," "Black, Non-Hispanic," "Hispanic," "Nonresident Alien," "Race and ethnicity unknown," and " White, non-Hispanic." In the new system (IWU data Warehouse: STU_RACES_DESC and STU_ETHNICS_DESC), race and ethnicity are separate variables, and students are permitted to choose more than one racial category. The ethnic categories are "Hispanic/Latino," and "Not Hispanic/Latino." The racial categories are "American Indian or Alaska Native," "Asian," "Black or African American," " Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander," and "White." Under the old system reporting was always unduplicated, each student counted once, so that the sum of the individual categories always equaled the total student headcount. Under the new system counting can be duplicated, each student counted more than once, so there is no direct relationship between the category counts and the total student headcount. Both unduplicated and duplicated counts are provided here.

Race and ethnicity are reported in this document according to the categories of the new system. By now, the great majority of students have reported race and ethnicity under the new system, but this becomes less true as we look further back in time. Thus, we use a combination of the two systems to determine race and ethnicity for this document. If a declaration has been made under the new system, then race and ethnicity are determined from the new system. If the records of the new system are blank or "Not Reported," then the old system is consulted.

Because the current convention of granting precedence to the new racial and ethnic declarations is an evolution from systems used previously, careful observers will note small differences in historical population counts between this document and older documents on race and ethnicity. The counts internal to this document are all derived using a common convention so that comparisons within this document are apples-to-apples.
