SITES TO SEE

A Williams Prayer Chapel

Sit and reflect on the mercies of God as you take in the beautiful 18th-century Gothic chapel, donated by faculty members Wilbur and Ardelia Williams. Its purpose is to offer a quiet place for prayer and meditation. Mrs. Williams created all nine stained glass windows. The main side windows represent unique Christian crosses from different nations and depict the blood that flowed from Christ's body to the earth.

B The Sufferer

A life-size, bronze sculpture of Jesus praying in the Garden adorns the front of the Williams Prayer Chapel. The full cup represents Christ suffering for us. His three fingers on the cup symbolize the three temptations of Satan and the three times he returned to his disciples to ask, "Could you not watch with me for one hour?" This sculpture was created by Rick Weinecke, a Christian, Israeli citizen.

C The Intercessor &

D The Potter

Pause to enjoy these bronze sculptures, commissioned by Wilbur and Ardelia Williams and created by Rick Weinecke. The Intercessor beautifully illustrates the heart of IWU as a young man and woman quietly study as Jesus guides. The Potter symbolizes the fact that we are clay in the Potter's hand.

E Student Center Mall

As you walk down the extraordinary mall of the Student Center lined with trees, overhead cross walks, and 44' glass roof, take in the Globe Theatre, McConn Coffee Company, and the IWU Bookstore.

F Art Galleries

Take in the exhibits from IWU's permanent collections located in Beard Arts Center. These include paintings and photos donated by our generous benefactors. Periodically, portions of these collections will be taken down to facilitate a visiting artist exhibition or senior student show.

G Climbing Wall

Home of the Wildcats, the Recreation & Wellness Center was granted the Award of Honor for its outstanding design. It is the hub of IWU's intercollegiate and intramural athletic programs and includes four racquetball courts, a swimming pool, fitness and weight facilities, a 25' climbing wall, an elevated jogging track, and five basketball/volleyball courts.

H Interactive Granite Globe

A 36-inch, polished black granite ball is the focal point of the rotunda in IWU's new Lewis A. Jackson Library. The continents are etched by hand on the sphere to create a globe. The 1,800-pound ball, which was imported from China, floats and rotates on a stream of water.

I John Wesley Statue

A 7-foot statue of John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, stands at the center of campus as a reminder of the University's religious heritage. Scott Stearman of Colorado Springs, Colo., did the sculpture.

J Society of World Changers

The Society was established by IWU Trustees to honor people who demonstrate their Christian faith through the quality of their work in a secular world. Inductees include Mr. Bob Briner, Mr. Frank Peretti, Dr. James C. Dobson, Dr. Benjamin Carson and Mr. Tony Dungy, Mrs. Joni Eareckson Tada.

K Wesley Library

The Wesley Library is housed on the 2nd floor of the John Wesley Administration Building. This includes two original letters written by John Wesley which are on display as well as replicas or reproductions of the teapot, cup and saucer, bowl, and plate which John Wesley used. The design on these items is by Wesley's mother, Suzanna Wesley, and the original teapot which Wesley used was made for him by Josiah Wedgwood. There are numerous books by or about John Wesley which are housed in bookcases.
