In what ways have your experiences in the Honors College prepared you for your life now, professionally and personally?

They caused me to reevaluate the way that I view the world. By being willing to change my worldview in light of new evidence, I have been able to adapt as I have learned more beyond college.

How did the Honors College shape how you view your vocation?

I am a scholar, and I view the clinical practice of dietetics as a scholarly pursuit.

If you could give one piece of advice to students who are now in the Honors College, what would it be?

Do not be afraid to change your life path. Every step that I have made has been essential to getting to where I am today, but I never would have pictured that this was where I was headed. I took some big risks in changing my course, but I am thankful that I followed the path that God had for me; I believe I am exactly where I should be.
