Section I: Program Information

Teachers Prepared

On this page, enter the number of program completers by the subject area in which they were prepared to teach, and by their academic majors. Note that an individual can be counted in more than one academic major and subject area. For example, if an individual is prepared to teach Elementary Education and Mathematics, that individual should be counted in both subject areas. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major or subject area, you may leave the cell blank. Please use the "Other" category sparingly, if there is no similar subject area or academic major listed. In these cases, you should use the text box to describe the subject area(s) and/or the academic major(s) counted in the "Other" category.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the program completers in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the program completers in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the program completers for the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the teachers prepared data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

□ No teachers prepared in academic year 2020-21

If your program has no teachers prepared, check the box above and leave the table below blank (or clear responses already entered).

What are CIP codes? The Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) provides a taxonomic scheme that supports the accurate tracking and reporting of fields of study and program completions activity. CIP was originally developed by the U.S. Department of Education's National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) in 1980, with revisions occurring in 1985, 1990, and 2000 (https://nces.ed.gov/ipeds/cipcode/Default.aspx?y=55).

Back To Top

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by academic major for academic year 2020-21. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Academic major" refers to the actual major(s) declared by the program completer. An individual can be counted in more than one academic major. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major, please leave that cell blank. (§205(b)(1)(H))

Please note that the list of majors includes several "Teacher Education" majors, as well as several noneducation majors. Please use care in entering your majors to ensure education-specific majors and non-education majors are counted correctly. For example, if an individual majored in Chemistry, that individual should be counted in the "Chemistry" academic major category rather than the "Teacher Education—Chemistry" category.

Section III: Program Pass Rates

Assessment Pass Rates

The pass rates table is populated from files provided by the testing company or state. The table provides information on the performance of the students in your teacher preparation program on each teacher credential assessment used by your state. In cases where a student has taken a given assessment more than once, the highest score on that test is used. In the case of a teacher preparation program with fewer than 10 scores reported on any single initial teacher credential assessment during an academic year, the program shall collect and publish information with respect to an average pass rate and scaled score on each state credential assessment taken over a three-year period. $(\S205(a)(1)(B))$

Please note that this page does not have an edit feature as the pass rates have already been through several rounds of verification. If you identify an error, please contact RTI's Title II Support Center and your testing company representative.

Section III: Program Pass Rates

Summary Pass Rates

The pass rates table is populated from files provided by the testing company or state. The table provides information on the performance of the students in your teacher preparation program on each teacher credential assessment used by your state. In cases where a student has taken a given assessment more than once, the highest score on that test is used. In the case of a teacher preparation program with fewer than 10 scores reported on any single initial teacher credential assessment during an academic year, the program shall collect and publish information with respect to an average pass rate and scaled score on each state credential assessment taken over a three-year period. (§205(a)(1)(B))

Please note that this page does not have an edit feature as the pass rates have already been through several rounds of verification. If you identify an error, please contact RTI's Title II Support Center and your testing company representative.

Key terms in this section are listed below. Click on the link to view the definition(s) in the glossary.

 - 1. Teach students with disabilities effectively In the TTT program, activities that prepare general education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively are threaded throughout the program. Courses are assigned a student group who may need adaptations to assessments, instruction, or classroom environment. Therefore, candidates not only learn the related general education pedagogy, but one or more aspects of the assignment require the candidates to consider the general education pedagogy in relation to students with disabilities (or diverse learning needs). In addition, the following courses have graded assignments that are dedicated to specific methods and skills necessary for meeting the learning needs of students with disabilities: EDUT-515, EDUT-578, EDUT-560, EDUT-511, EDUT-505, EDUT-510, EDUT-545, EDUT-520, EDUT-521, EDUT-550, EDUT-514, EDUT-542,

1. Teach students with disabilities effectively In the TTT program, activities that prepare special education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively are threaded throughout the program. In EDUT-515, candidates explore professional issues around disability services. The seminar provides candidates with an opportunity to promote a Christian response to disability. Finally, this course equips candidates to collaborate with other educators, service providers, and parents to develop and implement appropriate services and supports for students with disabilities. Candidates focus on promoting the essential skills of communication and problem-solving through developing self-awareness of the influence of their own and others' attitudes, behaviors, and ways of communicating on instructional practice. EDSE-595 is full-time teaching with lesson planning, collaboration, implementation, differentiation, assessing, family/community/school engagement, and classroom management in a Special Education classroom working with only students who have IEPs or 504 plans. In EDSE-525 Candidates develop instructional strategies and approaches that are culturally relevant and meet the literacy and language needs of exceptional learners. The course focuses on the identification and use of standards-based and evidence-based methodologies that strengthen the demonstration of respect for diversity in areas of exceptionality and language. Candidates design effective language and literacy instructional strategies, interventions, and supports that respect individual learning differences and exceptionalities. Candidates also explore current assessment practices with emphasis on legal and ethical considerations, formal and informal assessment tools, test scores, and technical adequacy. They gain experience making accommodations, using observational assessment, evaluating teacher-made tests, and selecting appropriate diagnostic measures for determining eligibility and accountability for students with exceptionalities of all ages. The course focuses on the use of assessment data to make informed instructional decisions for reading intervention and respectful communication of assessment results. In EDSE-535 This course focuses on exploring evidence-based methodologies for understanding and managing behavior. Candidates examine behaviors as related to disability, study functional behavior assessment, and develop behavior intervention plans. Emphasis is given to legal mandates associated with analyzing behavior and utilizing interventions within the schools with individuals affected by disability. Candidates also develop effective teaching strategies and interventions for students with Autism Spectrum Disorder. Based on an understanding of the etiology Autism Spectrum Disorder, candidates create evidence-based instructional practices that use assistive technologies to address specific academic, behavioral, social, and communication needs. Candidates cultivate skills in effectively supporting and enhancing

In the TTT program, activities that prepare special education teachers to participate as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act are threaded through the program. In EDSE-525 Providing Language and Literacy Instruction to Enhance Assessment and Data-Based Reading Interventions for Students with Exceptionalities, candidates participate in a field experience where they have interactive practice conducting assessments, developing and implementing a reading intervention, and analyzing the impact on student learning. In EDSE-535 Methods for Supporting Students with Behavioral Needs and Autism Spectrum Disorder, candidates participate in a field experience where they have interactive practice collecting baseline data in collaboration with a cooperating teacher to complete a functional behavior analysis, developing and implementing a behavior intervention plan, and analyzing the impact on student behavior.

In the TTT program, activities that prepare general education teachers to effectively teach students who are limited English proficient are threaded through the program. For example, in EDSE-535 the IEP assignment requires that the candidates anticipate how they can partner with other educators and personnel to overcome linguistic barriers to full family participation in IEPs. The ASD discussion requires candidates to demonstrate understanding of cultural and linguistic challenges that exist to diagnosing ASDs. In the EDSE-535 Field Experience, candidates reflect on the impact of language development and communication aspects on academic and nonacademic learning of individuals with autism. The Replacement Behaviors assignment requires candidates to reflect on the impact of language development and communication aspects on academic and nonacademic learning of individuals with autism and discuss the relationship of behavior to culture, learning, language development, classroom management,
