If you could give one piece of advice to students who are now in Honors College, what would it be?
Love your experience here at IWU and in the JWHC. Get to know your friends, spend time with them, and attend different events offered by the Honors College. The community you have in the JWHC and at IWU is unique. To live and grow with peers—who will challenge and encourage you—is a gift. Engage with your professors. They will listen to you and encourage you in your future endeavors.
