What is your hometown?
Cincinnati, OH

What were your major and minor? Your final thesis topic?
Major: Nursing    Minor: Spanish
Thesis Topic: “An Investigation into the Locus of Control of Hispanic Women in the Health Care Setting”

What is your current career/vocation?
I am currently working as an R.N. in the Cardiovascular Inpatient Unit at a local hospital in Cincinnati, OH.

In what ways have your experiences in the Honors College prepared you for your life now, professionally and personally?
Professionally, I was challenged to think critically about my faith and my vocation. Personally, I was challenged to reevaluate priorities. The experiences and insight I have gained through my interactions with other members of the JWHC have been beneficial and invaluable to my growth over the past four years.

How did the Honors College shape how you view your vocation?
The JWHC encouraged me to integrate my career with the desires God has given my heart. According to Frederick Buechner, it is the place where my “deep gladness meets the world’s deep need.”

If you could give one piece of advice to students who are now in the Honors College, what would it be?
I have been blessed to have many relationships with students currently in the JWHC. I would encourage students to care more about people’s hearts than they care about anything else. The heart is a dwelling place of God. It should be cared for intentionally.
