You can choose from over 80 majors to develop your knowledge and expertise. Our programs are built on academic excellence and equip you for a successful, lifelong career.

TAKE YOUR PICK

Many students entering college are not completely sure what major to choose or what they plan to do after graduation.

IWU has spent years helping students make these decisions and identify their life calling. Life Calling and Integrative Learning (LCIL) is internationally recognized for its innovation and expertise in this area.

LCIL offers life coaching, mentoring, résumé building, pre-declared student advising and career counseling.

Over 80 majors allow you to develop your knowledge and expertise. Our faculty discuss and help you define your dreams. Our Life Calling team helps you identify your strengths and learn how to best use them. We are a community dedicated to your success.

NURSING “The IWU School of Nursing has impacted me significantly. The faculty and staff are always available and are happy to help when it gets tough. I have learned more in my time at IWU than I ever would have thought, and I know that I am well prepared for my future career in nursing.”
BRADLEY SANDERS

CHEMISTRY AND MATH “The Division of Natural Sciences has really given me a unique learning experience that I know I wouldn’t get at any other school. In fact, I have been given the incredible opportunity to participate in the Hodson Research Institute where I will perform laboratory research alongside one of my professors, developing necessary skills that I will use in my future career!”
BETHANY GAMMON

MUSIC THERAPY “The Division of Music is both nurturing and challenging, and I have grown so much since coming to IWU. I’ve been able to experience so many wonderful opportunities, from opera to jazz band, and in every opportunity I’ve been able to learn from talented and caring professors.”
MEGAN BAUSERMAN

ACCOUNTING & BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION “The DeVoe Division of Business has impacted my educational experience by giving me a home away from home. Not only have our professors made me feel welcome in our division, but they have consistently brought challenges to the classroom that have helped me grow into a better business professional.”
NOAH JOHNSON

LIFE CALLING AND INTEGRATIVE LEARNING is ready to invest in you to help you prepare for your life and career after college.

Why did you choose to transfer to IWU?

I wasn’t sure that I wanted to continue with “the college experience” living on a college campus; I wanted to finish school online. My last school was considered a “party school” and I had a hard time making friends because that wasn’t really my scene. But I felt during the summer that God was really calling me here so that I could have a Christ-centered education and be surrounded by people who genuinely cared about who I am and lovingly challenging me so I can experience growth instead of doubt.

What advice do you have for transfers considering IWU?

Take the leap. No matter where you’re at in life or in your walk, no matter what you’re facing or what struggle made you consider transferring, you will find friends and professors and staff that will come alongside you and make you feel at home at IWU. Transferring was the best decision I could have made regarding my college career.

MICAH MANESS
Junior, Computer Science

How would you describe your transfer experience?

There was always people assisting me and making sure I was fully taken care of. I was never afraid to ask a question and knew someone would be glad to help me.

As a transfer, how would you describe your experience as part of the IWU community?

I never really engaged in community at my last university, but at IWU it was effortless to become a part of something more than myself.

TRANSFER ALUMNI

JOHNNY MARLIN
Major: Business
Grad Year: 2015

I met with Coach Clark, assistant men’s basketball coach, only one time and his openness and the way he talked about faith blew me away. I wanted a smaller community where faith came before athletics. I transferred without knowing much about the campus other than that their basketball team was on fire for serving the Lord. I remember the first time I went in to a huddle before practice expecting to break it down on some classic line of “together,” only to realize they were praying. From the beginning and how they approached basketball, I knew I was in for something special.

I’ve had some cool experiences, running out in front of 17,500 screaming fans at my former university’s basketball auditorium. But, if I could return to high school and do it over again, I would have...
HANNAH LINDSAY
Junior, Elementary Education

How would you describe your transfer experience?

I really enjoyed being in an all transfer class my first semester on campus. It helped me meet some of my close friends and get to hear stories that were similar to mine. Right away I was able to feel at peace and connect with others who were in the same boat as me.

As a transfer, how would you describe your experience as part of the IWU community?

I feel very connected with the IWU community. It is easy to meet people in your major because of the small class sizes and the welcoming professors. I also feel like there are many opportunities to get involved with on-campus and off-campus activities.

ZACH ZYLSTRA
Senior, Psychology/Pre-Medical Science

What advice do you have for transfers considering IWU?

If you’re considering transferring, wait for that feeling of belonging. I know when I chose my first school, I didn’t know what that "perfect school" feeling should feel like. However, after making the decision to attend IWU after my sophomore year, it was so obvious that this was where I was called to be. I also think it is a good idea to research the major programs and classes required of you, and, if possible, visit the campus.

What encouragement do you have for transfer students?

Indiana Wesleyan University has been the best decision I have made in my life. Bar none. I don’t pretend to guarantee that it will be that way for everyone, but I know that anyone who steps on this campus will feel the difference. You will be hard pressed to find a staff, a community, or even an entire university more dedicated to YOUR success and YOUR growth. I know in all the confusion of switching schools and questioning my future, IWU was the one place where all the dust settled and the choice became clear.

attended Indiana Wesleyan from the start. I’m so thankful to have had the opportunity to represent this school and be a member of the men’s basketball team. I can honestly say that in my two years at IWU, I learned what it means to be a man of God and there is no education more valuable than the principles instilled in me through this University.
We want you to know that you are wanted and welcome here. The Transfer Advising Program was created for the sole purpose of helping you transition to IWU. One of the most frequent questions asked by prospective transfer students is, “Will my classes transfer?” Transfer advising can answer that question before you arrive and also help guide you once you begin as an IWU student. Here are some of the other ways we can help you succeed in your transition:

MARY C. DODD
HONORS PROGRAM

Through creative, inquiry-based learning experiences, students in the Mary C. Dodd Honors Program engage in a transformative education that goes well beyond knowledge accumulation and career preparation. As participants in the John Wesley Honors College, Mary C. Dodd honors students will find that the ultimate purpose of the Honors College curriculum is to prepare and equip students for a lifelong cultivation of wisdom and understanding for the sake of a Christian life well-lived.

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA
College freshman or sophomore with:
• At least 15 hours of coursework at an accredited college or university
• GPA of 3.6 or higher (on a 4.0 scale) in college-level work

APPLICATION PROCESS
Applying to the Mary C. Dodd Honors Program is a three-step process:

1. Complete the application. It is suggested that you draft your short answers and essay response in a separate document, and then cut and paste your final responses into the online application form. Helpful hint: pay special attention to your writing and resumé, which will be carefully considered by the admissions committee.

2. Submit two recommendations. One recommendation must be from someone who knows your academic abilities well; a collegiate instructor is recommended. Your recommenders may use either the online or print form.

Note: Completed print forms may be mailed to John Wesley Honors College, Indiana Wesleyan University, 4201 S. Washington St., Marion, IN 46953-4974; sent by fax to 765-677-1768; or e-mailed to jwhc.admissions@indwes.edu.

3. Interview. A select number of applicants will be invited to interview for admission to the John Wesley Honors College. Admission interviews for students seeking to enter the Honors College in the fall of 2019 will be held on April 13, 2018.

APPLICATIONS DUE
MARCH 31, 2019

ADMISSION INTERVIEWS
APRIL 13, 2019

Students may continue to apply until Aug. 1, 2019. Interviews will then be offered on a case-by-case basis.

THE INKWELL is the University’s writing center where any student can come to receive free tutoring. Whether it is an essay, or simply a brainstorming session, writing tutors can use their gift for words to coach and help others become better writers.

THE CENTER FOR STUDENT SUCCESS (CSS) provides a holistic approach to support students outside of the classroom. Services include clinical counseling, disability services, TRIO SSS Program (Student Support Services), tutoring, CLEP testing and basic academic support. All of these services are delivered from a Christian perspective and are designed to assist the students in their interpersonal, emotional, academic and psychological growth.

THE OFFICE OF CAREER DEVELOPMENT supports you in the quest to discern your life calling, celebrating your God-given uniqueness by holistically developing and equipping you with the resources to make informed career decisions, ultimately enabling you to live a life of purpose and stewardship. Services include career coaching, resume and cover letter assistance, job searches and resources to identify internship opportunities.

LIFE CALLING enables individuals to find a higher purpose in their life that draws and guides them in all aspects of their life, equips them to make life decisions based on this purpose and empowers them to develop this purpose into world-changing leadership. Services include life coaching, pre-declared advising, student transitions and career development.

With so many different ways to gain real-life experience, we are positive you will find the opportunity that is perfect for you! Don’t miss out on the chance to build your knowledge, your confidence and your resume.
As a scholar, writer and teacher, Professor of English Dr. Mary Alice Trent hopes that every aspect of her work brings about “some kind of healing.” In 2004, she founded the Conference on Christianity, Culture and Diversity in America, which is designed to discuss diversity and reconciliation in academia. “I think Christian writers have a moral obligation, and an ethical obligation, to speak God’s truth through our writing,” Trent says.

Dr. Aly Williams, Director of Academic Advising and Professor of Exercise Science, returned to IWU to help students discover their life calling and how that calling can be fulfilled through their academic career. “Many students enter college with a major in mind or a potential job they wish to pursue. My hope is that students truly take time to examine their God-given gifts and talents and then discover how they might use those talents to glorify God.”

Dr. Jerry Pattengale, University Professor, spends much of his time expanding and promoting Passages, a unique moving exhibit showing off some of the oldest copies of the Bible in existence. Pattengale helps manage the study of one of the largest privately-owned collections. “The real-life treasure hunters of the Green Scholars Initiative are uncovering new scientific mysteries in ancient biblical texts and manuscripts,” said Pattengale.

FACULTY AND STUDENT INTERACTION

Our programs’ success hinges on over 150 nationally recognized faculty members. Our 14:1 student-to-faculty ratio affords personal collaboration with professors who are passionate about your success!
“The most segregated hour of Christian America is eleven o’clock on Sunday morning.” Despite many years of progress, the church still deals with some deep-seated racial problems. In his book “Christians and the Color Line,” Dr. Rusty Hawkins analyzes this racial divide and looks at what successful multiethnic congregations have already done. “It’s about becoming aware of the structures of the society around us,” Hawkins said.

Music Professor Dr. Phoenix Park-Kim is an experienced concert pianist who is known and respected all over the world. She has performed in the United States, South Korea, Taiwan, Italy, Switzerland and Russia. She’s played at Carnegie Hall and performed with the Korean Philharmonic. In 2013, she honored Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. at an event in Los Angeles, performing a new composition by a Korean composer specifically to honor the great civil rights leader’s lecture.

Professor of Biology, Dr. Matthew Sattley, and his students study the lives and behavior of bacteria from the bottom of the world. Sattley and his team are studying how Antarctic lake organisms cycle nutrients. “Even though these lakes are right around the freezing point of water, the organisms tend to grow better if you warm them,” Sattley said. He’s not really sure what that means yet; the bacteria may have come from somewhere else. It’s questions like these that drive Sattley’s passion for research.

Todd Williams is a saxophonist who has played with some of the best jazz musicians in the world, in venues like Lincoln Center in New York and the White House. He’s also a man of faith. He took a break from performing for a while to work as the music director of Times Square Church. He came to IWU because he felt a call to teach, he told the IWU student newspaper, The Sojourn. Williams’ three passions of teaching, faith, and performance fit together perfectly at IWU.

Faculty and staff are committed to enveloping you in prayer. Regular prayer walks across campus and Chapel services bring the University community together to worship and pray. Two prayer spaces are open morning to night in the Williams Prayer Chapel and the Chapel Auditorium. During your time on campus, you will be challenged to build academic excellence on a foundation of scriptural truth, and encouraged to build upon your God-given calling to become all that our Creator intended for you to be.
Biology, Physics, Chemistry, Computer Science, Math, Nursing, Occupational Therapy and Athletic Training students share space and knowledge by learning together in the Ott Hall of Sciences and Nursing.

“There’s a decent chance that a physical therapist would work with an athletic trainer, or an occupational therapist would work with somebody in public health,” said Dr. Aly Williams, associate professor of exercise science. “Any time you can put together a program where those types of students would intermix, you’re creating a dynamic that really doesn’t exist anywhere else.”

IWU’s nursing program, the largest within the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities (CCCU), is nationally recognized. IWU is building on that reputation to become one of the leading Christian schools for scientific education. You can get in on the ground floor of our growth.

Research is a foundational component of IWU’s science programs. With expanded facilities and resources, more students conduct scientific research on their own. Students have hands-on experience actually doing what they’ve been learning about in books and in classes. You might even see your name in print on a published scientific paper before you graduate.

THE HEARTBEAT OF CAMPUS

BARNES STUDENT CENTER
You won’t find a better place to spend the next few years. There’s always something going on at the Barnes Student Center, like weekly big-screen movies, music festivals, comedy nights, coffee shop concerts and Nerf wars. There are also student-run businesses. Your activity calendar can be as full as you want it to be.

THE LAWN
The Lawn outside of the student center is a great place to hang a hammock or lay out a blanket and enjoy a warm Indiana afternoon. Whether you are studying or hanging with friends, it’s bound to be a good time.

MCCONN COFFEE CO.
McConn Coffee Co. is a bustling corner café, popular with coffee drinkers and non-coffee drinkers alike, that serves as the Student Center social gathering space. Staffed by over 40 baristas hailing from all majors and ranging from freshmen to seniors, McConn is the perfect place to sense what IWU is all about—community.
THE GARAGE
Stop by The Garage to rent adventure learning equipment, like kayaks, tents, sleds and mountain bikes. You can find The Garage conveniently located in the Barnes Student Center. With the right equipment in tow, you’ll be ready for your next outdoor adventure!

GLOBE THEATRE
The Globe Theatre shows some of the year’s top films. This past year, movies included The Greatest Showman, Despicable Me 3 and Star Wars: The Last Jedi. Student tickets are only $2.

CHICK-FIL-A
Chick-fil-A is one of the many food options that students have as a part of their meal plan. Other choices include make your own stir-fry, a chicken wing station, and Baldwin Dining Hall, where a wide selection of healthy and satisfying options are available daily.
REBASH
Ring in the New Year (again) on the dance floor after you return from Winter Break.

BOWMAN BOAT RACE
Help your residence hall create a cardboard boat that will withstand a race on the University pond. You may even see some of your professors out there on the water!

HOMECOMING DERBY
Grab a scooter, tricycle, hop ball or pair of rollerblades and compete in relay races with your residence hall as part of homecoming week.

FUSION
Volunteer to help plan and coordinate the high-energy FUSION event, a two-day high school youth conference held on the IWU campus. You’ll even get to see special performances by artists like Lecrae and NEEDTOBREATHE.

SPOTTED COW WEEKEND
Bring a blanket and lounge on the lawn between Hodson and Evans Halls. You won’t want to miss this annual spring music festival featuring a talented lineup of local bands.
Whether you live in one of the residence halls, the lodges of the East Village, or the townhouse apartments, the IWU community is one of the closest and strongest you may ever join.

Not only can your residence hall be your home, it can also be your window to the world. Outreach Coordinators connect IWU students with a real need in the surrounding community; Diversity Ambassadors host events celebrating the infinite variety of human life and expression; and Chaplains are available to listen and provide a spiritual sounding board. At IWU, you can be as involved as you want.

All of this takes place in living environments that appear near the top of many rankings. The dynamic residence facilities at IWU are meant to encourage students to live in community with one another and make the campus a new home away from home. With halls featuring expansive common spaces, suites and well-equipped rooms, students make these spaces their own and engage in the unique on-campus community at IWU.

Join the pack and cheer on the Wildcats! The men’s and women’s basketball teams claimed back-to-back National NAIA Division II Championships in 2013 and 2014. The men’s team conquered again in 2016 and 2018, making them one of only two teams to ever earn three titles in five years in NAIA Division II history.

Student-athletes are leaders not only for their team, but also for the world around them. Sports teams frequently travel abroad for mission trips and serve our local community by mentoring area school children. In 2013, the entire Athletic Division went on a mission trip to New Zealand.
IWU boasts 18 talented intercollegiate teams—the newest additions being men’s football and women’s swimming and diving.

IWU has been rooted locally in Marion, Indiana, for nearly a century, but our scope also extends nationally and globally as we seek to fulfill our mission and global vision by fostering a global mindset among our students and serving the global church.

AROUND THE WORLD

HAITI
Students spent several days on the island of La Gonâve working with children in an orphanage and assisting with projects at the hospital and mission compound.

ZAMBIA
Students from every major academic area can earn credit while working with community organizations that need help with everything from business systems to medical care.

HONDURAS
Nursing students worked in local hospitals and clinics, provided fluoride treatments and hand-washing lessons to children in schools, formed relationships with residents and immersed themselves in local culture.

CHINA
School of Nursing students and faculty participated in an exchange with the Shenyang Medical College and Nanjing Medical University.

Through World Impact, IWU students can travel around the globe to serve in a variety of ways.

INTERCULTURAL FIELD TRIP EXPERIENCES led by faculty over Spring Break

GLOBAL SERVICE LEARNING TEAMS led by faculty/staff to international locations such as Haiti, Kenya, Bosnia, Croatia, China and the Dominican Republic

Hundreds of IWU students travel abroad to serve and study in a variety of ways.
Rooted in the tradition of The Wesleyan Church, which materialized amid the fervor of the abolition and women’s rights movements, Indiana Wesleyan University prepares you to carry on the legacy of changing the world – perhaps in your very own community.

YOU ARE CALLED TO CHANGE THE WORLD

SPIRITUAL LIFE
The nearly 3,800-seat Chapel Auditorium is the center of spiritual life, hosting chapel services three times a week.

Dedicated space for prayer can be found in the Williams Prayer Chapel, the upper floor of the Chapel Auditorium and in each residence hall.

We believe that spiritual transformation involves not only an inward experience of God’s grace in our lives, but also an outward expression of love and compassion for others.

John Wesley taught that every Christian has an obligation to serve the poor, destitute, sick and imprisoned. We accept that responsibility enthusiastically.

Don’t wait until you graduate to start transforming the world. You have the ability to make positive real-world change now.

NONE ARE SO YOUNG... AS TO BE EXCUSED FROM ASSISTING THEIR NEIGHBORS.
