INTERVIEW HELP:

We as faculty know that after graduation many students will be looking for jobs. This month we started reviewing our weekly learning objectives as a way to help prepare students for the interview process. To review these learning objectives, you can visit our website at <https://www.indwes.edu/undergraduate/division-of-business/resources>. As always, we as staff are eager to help in any way. If you would like more help in the interview process fill free to reach out. Nonetheless, we love to hear from students about how they are doing and where they land, so let us know how you are doing!
